No Extra Information Released on Shooting

An investigation by three Michigan State Police detectives into the shooting death of Edward LaMotte has been completed but not released yet by the county prosecutor's office pending the completion of other reports.

Crawford County Prosecutor John Huss said he is waiting for the autopsy report and a report from the Michigan State Police Crime Lab before releasing any more information about the Jan. 10th shooting.

The prosecutor's office has also received additional information concerning an argument allegedly involving LaMotte and another citizen prior to his death.

LaMotte was shot by two police officers, one from the Grayling City Police and one from the Crawford County Sheriff Dept., after he reportedly threatened them with a shotgun. The officers were responding to a report of a gunshot on Elm Street when they were confronted by LaMotte, said a news release from the county prosecutor's office. He appeared to load a shotgun and then walked toward the officers who said they identified themselves and repeatedly ordered him to drop his weapon. As LaMotte continued to approach the officers, he aimed the weapon at them and was shot by both officers simultaneously, the prosecutor's office said.

LaMotte was pronounced dead at the scene by county medical examiner Dr. Donald Burkley.

The names of the officers have not been released yet.

Blood Bank Draws

102 Donors on Jan. 12

One hundred and two donors participated in the Jan. 12 blood bank at the American Legion.

There were 3 first time donors: Mary E. Heinlein; Dawn M. Herrick and Dawn M. Willoughby.

Gallon pins were awarded to: 1 Gal. Timothy Gildner; Carl Lugviel and John T. Peterson. 2 Gal.-David McCauslin and Barbara Wade. 4 Gal.-Lawrence Sell. 8 Gal.-Georgina Wilcox. 10 Gal.-Terry Wakeley.

The top donor groups were M.A.T.E.S., 1st place, and Mercy Hospital, 2nd.

The young men from Shawano Center distributed the posters before the blood bank and did the clean-up and loading after, as a community project.

The next blood bank will be March 8, from noon to 6 p.m., at the American Legion.

Camp Grayling Report Recommends Compromises

Camp Grayling could continue as a first rate training facility while fitting into the total environment of the area, says the Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee in its report to Governor Blanchard.

The committee, appointed by Blanchard in June of 1988, recommends "a compromise position that requires cooperative camp management, improvements, and restrictions to compensate for the problems created..."

The committee felt compromise through limiting training activity was the best way for the camp and community to co-exist. The compromise position was recommended over the other options of no change or closing Camp Grayling.

"If action of some nature does not occur, the controversies will continue to plague the community and the Camp," the report says. "The concerns of citizens and numerous special interest groups are gathering momentum. Unless compromise is reached, the combination of media attention and the continuing escalation of noise and other problems will result in declining interest in the Grayling area, with an attendant decline in the economy, or in continuing litigation and various legal maneuvers."

The report says closing Camp Grayling would have dire consequences for the Michigan Guard and would ultimately result in losing many of the economic benefits they provide for the area.

In 1986, Camp Grayling wages were $5,935,174 or 14.5 percent of the total payroll in the county. The Camp had an equivalent of 227 full-time employees in 1986 and the military said another 470 jobs in the county were generated by the Camp.

"The immediate economic impact on the Grayling area after closing the Camp would be devastating," the report said, "though in the long run, recovery would be possible." The report noted a Pentagon study from 1961-1987 showed a net gain of jobs in communities affected by 100 military bases closing. Because of the lack of private land available for development, the report said it would be difficult for the Grayling area to recover from the withdrawal of the Camp.

In recommending its compromise position the committee said it is convinced that if reasonable change and compromise of some nature does not occur, this controversy will continue to grow and create an adverse impact on Camp Grayling as well as the surrounding communities and their residents."

POLARIZED COMMUNITY

During the six months of testimony gathered by the committee, the report said the committee found indications of a polarized community.

"Area residents have been pitted against each other as the training activity at the Camp, and the attending criticism, has increased. Residents have questioned the validity of testimony from 'retirees and downstaters,' while residents of the Guthrie Lakes and Lovells communities have provided personal stories of frustration over what they perceive as the Guard's insensitivity and unresponsiveness, even in spite of some positive action by the Guard to address their complaints. Some witnesses were cheered; others were booed. And the sometimes patronizing attitude of the Guard, including questioning the patriotism and motivation of critics has only served to add to the divisiveness."

"Analysis of the testimony and

"The single greatest complaint expressed by citizens in both letters and testimony is the level of noise generated by Guard training activities..."

School Board Supports
COOR Millage Request

A resolution supporting a January 30th millage request by the C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District was passed by the Crawford AuSable School Board of Education at their regular meeting Jan. 9.

C.O.O.R. is asking for one mill for one year to build a facility to replace six 20-year-old portable classrooms. The portable classrooms are currently used by trainable mentally impaired (TMI) and severely mentally impaired (SMI) students. The classrooms are on their last legs and cannot be used for more than another year, C.O.O.R. administrators say. It also costs as much for heat and electricity for the portable classrooms as for the much larger ROOC facility nearby.

C.O.O.R., which represents Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw, and Roscommon counties, currently operates on .75 mills a year.

C.O.O.R.'s millage is the lowest of all 57 intermediate school districts in the state, and C.O.O.R. has been operating on the same .75 mills for 22 years.

Twenty of the 57 students in the TMI and SMI programs come from Crawford County. All students in C.O.O.R. programs come from the local school districts within the four counties. C.O.O.R. provides educational services by contract with the local school districts.

The Crawford AuSable School Board felt the one mill for one year was the most cost effective way to pay for the new classroom construction. If the one mill passes, it will cover all construction costs with no interest payments necessary. If the millage doesn't pass, construction will have to be financed over several years and the local school districts will have to

GHS State's Best For Donating Blood

On Friday, January 6, Paul Thomson, Chairman of the Crawford County Red Cross, presented a plaque to Grayling High School in recognition for the important role Grayling High School has played in the success of Crawford County Red Cross Blood Drives. The presentation was covered by TV 9 & 10 and aired that night. Carl Naghtin, High School Principal, Mike Wieland, high school teacher and director of the high school blood drives, and students Lori Dean and Tim Hickey presented the plaque to the Board of Education.

Grayling High School has hosted two of the County's five annual blood banks each year since 1975. The blood banks are held in the high school gym and are completely organized by Wieland and high school students. Students set up for the drive and assist Red Cross personnel and nurses throughout the noise. Here are some of the major recommendations:

1) Restrict air-to-ground range use and artillery use to sunrise through three hours after sunset, with exceptions permitted by Camp Commander only with justification of need and lack of alternatives.

2) Prohibit air-to-ground and artillery use from Friday noon to Tuesday noon on Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, and opening of trout season weekends.

3) Explore alternate sites for dropping live 500-pound bombs.

4) Prohibit flying down the AuSable River.

5) Ban use of eight-inch artillery at Camp Grayling by 1992.

6) Establish a plan to acquire private property within Camp boundaries.

7) Finish study by Jan. 1, 1990, exploring restructuring of ranges to make firing and impact points more remote from populated areas and determining capabilities of simulators and other sound reduction devices.

Among the other recommendations by the committee were these suggestions:

A) The Governor should appoint a permanent civilian oversight committee.

B) The Dept. of Military Affairs should continue to allow the use of Camp Grayling to non-Michigan military only if they comply with Conditions of Use provisions that regulate hours, noise control, environmental regulatory compliance, and establish a chain of responsibility for military and civil infractions that ends with the Mich. Dept. of Military Affairs.

C) Establish a complaint hotline which expands current complaint operation to include documentation of each complaint and its resolution.

D) Provide funding and administrative support for active public information program at Camp Grayling.

MPRC

On the proposed new MPRC and Air Assault Strip, the committee recommended the MPRC not be constructed unless and until a full environmental impact statement was released and public concerns were met. The committee said the military should investigate relocating the MPRC farther away from the AuSable and residential area and appropriate buffer zones should be established. The report also said the MPRC should be implemented with a full laser targeting systems in operation to reduce noise.

Air Assault Strip recommendations included permitting use only from sunrise to sunset and prohibiting activities on it not directly related to the transport of troops and equipment to the training site.

Although there was strong consensus on the committee that Camp Grayling plays a vital role in the national defense, the committee seriously deliberated recommendations regarding limitations on troop training levels as well as the degree to which Camp Grayling should be available for non-Michigan National Guard use. More than half of the 450 letters received by the committee urged limiting Camp use to Michigan troops.

The committee felt, however, that restrictions of this type should not be recommended for the present time. They felt ways should be found to hold noise levels and environmental damage at no greater than current levels and to encourage the rapid development of high technology training alternatives which will reduce these levels and perhaps provide additional economic benefits to the state.

BARGAIN FRAMES?

QUESTION: I know it's important to have carefully prescribed glasses. But how important is the frame? Doesn't it make sense to spend as little as possible?

ANSWER: You can look for bargains that save you money initially. But if your glasses aren't comfortable, if you have to select from only a few styles that aren't well-made, that's no bargain. You want glasses you can wear in comfort and will last for a long time. Something so important that you use every day in your work or at home deserves careful consideration. If you're like most people, you're concerned about your appearance. You want your glasses to look good as well as fit well and comfortably on your face. The proper frames are just as important as the proper lenses.

RED CROSS AWARD — The Crawford County Chapter of the American Red Cross recently presented a plaque of appreciation to Grayling High School for 15 years of student-run blood banks. Receiving the plaque are GHS seniors Tim Hickey and Lori Dean, student coordinators; instructor Michael Wieland, staff coordinator; and GHS Principal Carl Naghtin. Presenting the plaque are Paul Thomson, chairperson of the Crawford County Chapter and Betty Pamerleau, chairwoman of Blood Services (Left to right).

of the school," he added.

Wieland, who has acted as staff member in charge of school blood banks for the past 15 years, explained that they grew out of the science curriculum. Just as the high school health classes include American Red Cross first aid and CPR units, he believed that his anatomy and physiology classes needed a hands-on/career day project. Holding spring and fall blood banks in the high school gymnasium seemed a natural outgrowth of his advanced courses.

In the sophomore health classes, students are told that free blood is available to them, no matter where they are, because their home county has a blood bank. Health class students also tour a bank station by station, where they see upperclassmen and community members donating blood. Then, said Wieland, when they reach 17 and can donate themselves, they have less apprehension about the process. This leads to more donations later.

"The student body has done a fantastic job," he continued. For example, nearly 50% of the 1988 senior class gave blood before graduating (compared to the general public, which normally has a three percent donation rate). "If we could get that donation percentage from the general public, there wouldn't be a shortage of blood in any community."

Crawford County almost always reaches 100% of its donor goal and the local chapter feels that wouldn't be possible without GHS's efforts, added Wieland. The November quota, 100 pints, was exceeded by 3 pints. Sixty of the 103 came from high school students. Furthermore, 44 donors were new ones. (By comparison, 48 new donors at a bank is the record.)

The GHS blood banks could not work without the efforts of his students' coordinators, insisted Wieland. He tries to choose promising sophomores from health classes to run the banks in their junior and senior years.

The 1988-89 coordinators are seniors Lori Dean and Tim Hickey, who "are doing a great job." They take students from science classes and the National Honor Society to do everything from advertising to assistance during the bank, from set-up to clean-up. Wieland also credited high school staff members for their cooperation on blood bank days.

GHS Principal Carl Naghtin echoed Wieland's enthusiasm: The blood banks have become "an integral part of our program. They teach students about being responsible in their community." He said he does not consider the program extracurricular, "but rather co-curricular. "It's definitely part of learning."

The last chance for relaxation was last weekend, when the ladies met for an ice skating party and then lunch at Pizza Hut on Saturday. Sunday, they enjoyed a Friendship Tea at the home of Susan and Frank Bateson.

Pageant moms this year are: Susan Bateson, June Ginther, Diane Hudson, Keyna Kerekes, Renee Kohnert, Sue Longendike, Jeanne Malone, Cheryl Melroy, Jackie Parker and Kristy Scheer. They lend a helping hand when the girls need it most. They help with talent, gather props, costumes, and help with wardrobe. The dance rehearsals at Louise Tournaud's School of Dance have prepared the girls for the opening number, and it looks great.

Dee Mead is the pageant seamstress, and the costumes are ready for final fittings. Terry Dickinson is designing a scene of Bourbon Street as a backdrop, with the help of some high school students. This event is a community affair, and the pageant committee appreciates the help it receives, from businesses, merchants, financial institutions, service groups and individuals.

Tickets are on sale at Mac's Drugs, Chief Shoppenagons, and Pageant Directors and Moms. All tickets are $5, and are general admission unless taken to Mac's for a seat assignment. The Pageant begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium. Miss Grayling 1975, Bridget Hoffman will be the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Get Rid of Asset, Re-apply for Help

Editor:
Regarding the letter from the lady from Lovells in your January 12th issue, and the fact that her daughter can't get assistance from DSS because she has an asset valued at $2500. In this instance it would seem to me that all she has to do is divest herself of the asset and re-apply. Why can't she give the deed to the Lovells library, or the school system, or her church (or her mother). She also should be able to get child support from the baby's father. Why hasn't she tried that?

Opinions

Good News . . .

From the Crawford AuSable School Board

Too often significant events occur that are not recognized. Educational experiences have a wide range and the Board is very proud of the exemplary academic curriculum of the district. However, the Board is also proud of the administration, staff and students who are involved in other important activities throughout the District and the Community.

The Middle School is in the midst of their Spelldown competition and they have made a formal request to host the District Spelldown Championships. If the request is granted it will be a very positive experience for the schools and the community.

'Pizzas' for Reading is becoming very popular at the Frederic Elementary School. The program is an exciting incentive for the kids to read and behold they are enjoying the reading, too. The Pizza Hut company is appreciated for this opportunity.

Second through fourth grades have finished the B.A.B.E.S. program. Students are learning about making choices. They are talking about self worth and using attitudes of 'feeling good about themselves'. Discussion about peer pressure and making good choices are valuable to the beginning years of our young people. Kindergarten and first grade will begin soon at both schools.

Staff members from Grayling El and Frederic El have participated in workshops introducing a method of learning math called "Math Your Way" for the kindergarten and first grades. They attended the workshops during the summer in order to start the year with the new concepts. The kids are very enthusiastic and becoming quite interested in Math.

The Red Cross organization honored our High School for their extraordinary contributions as hosts for two Blood Bank drives each year. Students begin work at the Blood Banks in their sophomore year participating through graduation. They set up nursing stations, organize publicity and staff the area for the day. Crawford County has exceeded their quotas for many years and the students are given a fair share of the credit for the accomplishment. Three percent of the general population donate blood - fifty percent of last year's graduating class donated blood. The participation of this year's students appear to be as impressive. Health education and encouragement by teachers and student peers have contributed to an outstanding accomplishment by the students of Crawford County for the Red Cross.

Throughout the District our students have broadened their horizons, developed enthusiasm for learning and participated in activities that contribute to their future and the future of their community.

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

I lost a good friend in November. That's when the Crawford County Arts Council, after nearly a decade of existence, finally closed up shop. It passed away quietly and in relative obscurity. It is a loss for me. It is a loss for Grayling. Too bad.

The Arts Council was organized back in the early eighties to raise funds for arts programs that had been cut in the school district when a major millage proposal was defeated. It expanded its goal to offer arts activities to the entire community.

I was a member from its inception. We heard many times that an arts council would never make it in Grayling, but some of us disagreed. We had few members, little money and big dreams. We ran bake sales and silent auctions and talent shows and you-name-it to raise funds to keep arts activities alive in the schools and to offer performances to the public.

The Council had its heyday in the mid eighties, with lots of offerings and lots of members, but we never succeeded in interesting the community at large. In the last couple of years, the life draining out of it was nearly palpable. So we decided last fall to call it quits.

Ah, well. What difference does it make to me? I'm willing to make an effort, take the time, go elsewhere to keep my life enriched by the arts. I can drive to Chicago to see a Gauguin exhibit, travel to Detroit to watch "Search for Signs of Intelligent Life in the Universe," car pool to Stratford to immerse myself in Shakespearean plays, zip over to Interlochen to hear the Grand Traverse Symphony Orchestra perform.

We adults can still choose to have art experiences in our lives. But our children can't. They don't have the mobility nor the financial capability nor the awareness needed to make the arts a part of their lives.

Who is going to teach our children how one behaves at a performance or a concert or a museum? They don't learn the appropriate behaviors from attending sports events and rock concerts.

Of course they can be taught. They want to be taught. I've seen them watch an Interlochen Arts Academy production in our Joseph Stripe Auditorium. I've sat with them many times at the Stratford Festival in Ontario. I've explored the Detroit Institute of the Arts with them. They want to learn how to experience the arts.

But how will they learn if they have no opportunities? Who is going to pay for performances, assemblies, and programs in the schools where they learn about art? Not the Crawford County Arts Council. Not anymore.

No more concerts by Kitty Donohoe, Gemini, Chappy Reaver, Orrin Star. No more Picture Person Program in the elementary schools. No more performances by the Central Michigan University Players, Midwest Lyceum, Interlochen Arts Academy, Highbarger Dance Company, Young Americans, Little Miami Theatre Works, Ragabash Puppets. No more notecard design contests. No more creative writing workshops by Michael Delp and Terry Wooten.

The Arts Council donated thousands of dollars over the decade to students to study at summer arts camps, pursue arts majors in college, attend conferences in the arts. Is there a group that will step in to pick up the tab?

I refuse to believe that there is no interest in the arts in Crawford County. I prefer to believe, instead, that somehow the Arts Council simply failed ultimately to catch the imagination and interest of enough people to keep it vital. I hope that an energetic group will step in to reignite our community's basic willingness to support and promote the arts.

I know you're out there. I hear your voices singing. I listen to your instruments playing. I study your paintings and your drawings and your photographs. I read your poetry. I see your plays and musicals. I watch you dance.

You really must come forward and band together and reorganize a council that will offer consistent arts opportunities to all of our citizens, but especially to our children. Without exposure to the arts when they're young, it is unlikely that they will develop a sudden love for them when they are grown.

And that will be a loss, too.

Almanack

By Richard Milliman
Avalanche President

Dukakis opts for sidelines

I SEE BY THE papers that Gov. Michael Dukakis will not run for another term as governor of Massachusetts.

He didn't really say why, but a couple of guesses are obvious.

We all remember Gov. Dukakis, don't we? Fame is fleeting, but it's not that fast. Just in case he's the fellow who was a regular visitor to our main streets and our living rooms just a while back as he ran for president.

One guess is that Mr. Dukakis is just suiting up for another run for president in 1992, although he assures us "this decision is one that has nothing to do with national office." But the fact is that no sitting governor has been elected president since 1982 — and lots have tried.

The other guess is that Massachusetts' financial mess might have something to do with the governor's choice. The state's budget is out of whack, the deficit is growing, and a tax increase is very possible.

Probably the governor's decision is a combination of these two reasons, maybe with great many more factors thrown in.

But if George Bush turns out to be as good a president as a lot of folks expect, and as popular as he may become, we may see Michael Dukakis as his opponent again.

Remember Adlai E. Stevenson, who had the misfortune to run twice against Dwight Eisenhower? History could repeat ... sort of.

I SEE BY THE PAPERS that President Reagan had another medical problem taken care of just a couple of weeks before returning to private life.

It wasn't serious ... just a nagging problem with the ring finger on his left hand. The surgery repaired a condition known as Dupuytren's contracture, which caused a progressive curling of the finger. Most of us probably would have outpatient treatment, but Mr. Reagan — as befits the President — had the work done at Walter Reed Hospital.

His doctors report the contraction was minimal when Mr.

Reagan took office, but has been getting progressively worse. Probably all that hand waving aggravates it.

Why did he choose to have the work done now, just days before he returned to non-presidential status? Probably just tidying up loose ends. And besides, the White House health program probably is better than any civilian one.

Random thought: I wonder if Mr. Reagan will go on social security now.

I SEE BY THE PAPERS Michigan is gaining population. Now that's a switch.

Census officials report that since 1980, Michigan has enjoyed the 10th largest population increase among states, and now stands less than 1 percent below its 1980 population total.

However, Michigan still will lose some of its strength in Congress. Because congressional seats are allotted among states according to population, and because other states have been growing faster than Michigan's growth, we stand to lose one and maybe two of our 18 congressional seats.

That's not too bad. Early in the decade, the growth trend indicated Michigan would lose three seats. A loss of only one would be a gain in some ways.

Gov. Blanchard may as well take credit for the state's growth, and saving one and maybe two seats in Congress. After all, he has been in office when the tide turned.

I SEE BY THE PAPERS that Chilean President Augusto Pinochet has ordered an end to prosecution of 32 journalists involved in 49 different trials in Chile. The charge? They were accused of defaming the president or the armed forces.

If we had the same standards here, most newspaper columnists, and many other journalists, would spend time in jail.

When something happens like this, it should make us stop and be thankful for freedom of the press in America. And that goes both for the press itself, and for the people in general. It's precious.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

For every 10 pounds of junk mail you throw out, one sheet of interesting material occasionally surfaces.

Here's a few pieces that survived the toss to the trash:

* America's 155 national forests now contain more than 340,000 miles of roads, eight times more than the interstate highway system. According to National Wildlife magazine, if the roads currently planned are built, the forest road network will contain enough mileage to reach to the moon and back.

* The Batmobile and the Batcycle, used in the television series, will be sold this weekend with the car expected to attract bids of $750,000 or more at an auction this weekend.

Another strange car to be sold is Howard Hughes' 1967 Royal Daimler. The car has a toilet built in under the rear seat, has an air purifier, and a throne-type of seat between the front and rear seats.

* There's at least one place on earth where man's tinkering with the environment has cooled the climate instead of warmed it. In Palm Springs, California, temperatures over the last 15 years have not kept pace with the general warming trend in the desert southwest. National Wildlife magazine says the reason is all the golf courses there. Instead of heating the ground and air, the sun's energy is spent evaporating water from acres of irrigated greens.

* The Chinese have a new health food drink: ant juice. It's touted as a cure for all sorts of ailments. It's rich in protein and trace elements but there's one hitch. Ant juice can add inches to your waistline. Ants have four times as many calories per pound as beef.

* Plans by the city of Paris to launch an orbiting string of luminous balloons to celebrate the Eiffel Tower's 100th anniversary have been abandoned. The luminous balloons would have appeared as large as a full moon above the earth but outraged astronomers succeeded in scrapping the plans. The brightly lit doughnut-shaped object would have interfered with astronomical observations.

Complete Coverage

"CORNELL CORNER"

It is worthwhile to choose replacement cost coverage on your homeowner's policy, even though premiums are higher? Most often, the answer is yes.

In case of loss (fire or theft, for instance), ordinary insurance policies will pay you the "actual cash value" of a covered item — that is, cost less depreciation. The older your belongings are, the more "depreciated" they will be.

Replacement cost coverage, on the other hand, pays for new furniture, new clothing — new items to replace the old ones lost.

There are certain exceptions. "Irreplaceable" things — antiques, memorabilia, souvenirs, collector's items, and the like — are not covered on a replacement cost coverage endorsement, though they may be insurable on a personal articles floater.

Motorized golf carts, too, are usually covered on an auto policy, rather than homeowner's, and for actual cash value only.

Our weather reporter last week claimed 1 foot of snow on the level. Must have been a seven league boot.

Any open spot in the woods measures from 30 to 36 inches deep of snow. Our oldest inhabitants claim we have had more snow for this early in the year than they ever knew before.

Mrs. Leo Gannon of Big Bay and daughter Miss Audrey of Saginaw visited at the home of her brother Leland Smock Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Walser of Chesaning and their guests the F. Stewarts are spending

At Mancelona last Friday, Grayling's varsity lost to the Anttrim County boys 30-22, but definitely showed improvement. Mancelona has a strong quintet. They have a tall five and against Grayling their marksmanship was hard to beat. However, Grayling dominated the play in the first half to lead 16-13, and continued to be in the ball game until the last part of the fourth quarter.

The lineup of the Legion team was as follows: Clarence Johnson and Elmer Johnson, forwards, Grant Thompson, center; Roy Milnes and Harry Reynolds, guards. This team will play the Saginaw Y.M.C.A. team Saturday night. Norman Spencer, well known in local baseball circles as "Baldy" is the manager.

Pipeline right-of-ways are popular areas for motorcycles, snowmobiles, three-wheelers and other off-road vehicles. They are also popular for skiing, horseback riding and other off-the-road activities.

You should know that the cleared lane over a pipeline belongs to the owner of the land. The landowner has granted an easement permitting the line to be built and maintained, but the strip remains private property. Persons wishing to use pipeline right-of-ways must first obtain the landowner's permission.

Call it courtesy, but it's also the law.

Surprising, how people who know better ignore the obvious and cause themselves repeated and needless suffering for no worthwhile purpose. Chiropractic is an effective alternative that can relieve specific neuromusculoskeletal disorders that otherwise cannot be managed or are simply covered up repeatedly. The secret lies in removing the cause and not just treating effects.

Sales for the Michigan Lottery's exciting new instant game "Fame & Fortune" started January 10. This column covers special features of the game including its exciting new weekly TV show.

Q. What's so different about this game?

A. Six lucky lottery players will star on statewide TV each week and try for a top prize of $50,000. It will be one of the richest game shows on television! ("Fame & Fortune" replaces the instant game which changed every 8-10 weeks.)

In addition to that weekly $50,000 top prize, players will also find other cash awards up for grabs, as well as exciting prizes such as new cars, dream vacations and big screen TVs.

Q. How do you get in on the action?

A. Any scratched-off ticket showing three "TV" symbols qualifies you for the next weekly drawing when signed with name, address and phone number and mailed to: "Fame & Fortune," P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Q. When will these drawings be held?

A. After the first six contestants are drawn for the initial TV show on January 28, all drawings will be held during the "Fame & Fortune" TV show and names of the next six contestants will be announced on the air.

Q. What happens if your name is drawn but you miss the show?

A. All contestants will be called by a Lottery representative and receive a letter by Express Mail giving full details. We're sure you will also hear from friends who were watching.

Q. When will "Fame & Fortune" be on TV?

A. Beginning Saturday, January 28, it will appear every Saturday between 7:30-8:00 p.m. The broadcast will also include live drawings of the Daily 3, Daily 4 and Super Lotto games.

Q. What stations will carry the show?

A. All stations now carrying the Monday through Saturday night drawings: WDIV-TV, Channel 4 in Detroit; WUHQ-TV, Channel 41 in Battle Creek; WEYI-TV, Channel 25 in Flint; WZM-TV, Channel 13 in Grand Rapids; WLX-TV, Channel 10 in Lansing and Jackson; WLUC-TV, Channel 6 in Marquette; WGTQ-TV, Channel 29 in Traverse City, as well as some 160 cable outlets.

Q. Will "Fame & Fortune" still have smaller prizes that can be won instantly?

A. Yes. Besides a chance to go on TV, millions of players can still win prizes of $2, $5, $25, $50 or $100. These are paid by any lottery ticket retailer.

For submitting a question leading to this column, Clara Rounds of Mt. Clemens, will receive 50 "Fame & Fortune" tickets.

If you have a lottery question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to: "Winner's Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Sadly missed by his wife, Edith, children and grandchildren.

Wrestlers Set Record for Tournament

The Grayling matmen, who wanted to bring home a win for their coach in Florida with his sick father, did it in style last week setting a new school record.

Viking coach Don Ferguson was absent from the 7-team tournament in Clare Saturday, Jan. 14, but the Grayling wrestlers wanted him to know they were thinking of him.

The matmen placed

11 of 18 team members in the finals and earned 224 points. They won the tournament easily over 2nd-place Rogers City who had 154½ points. And the 224 points set a new GHS record for most points at a tournament.

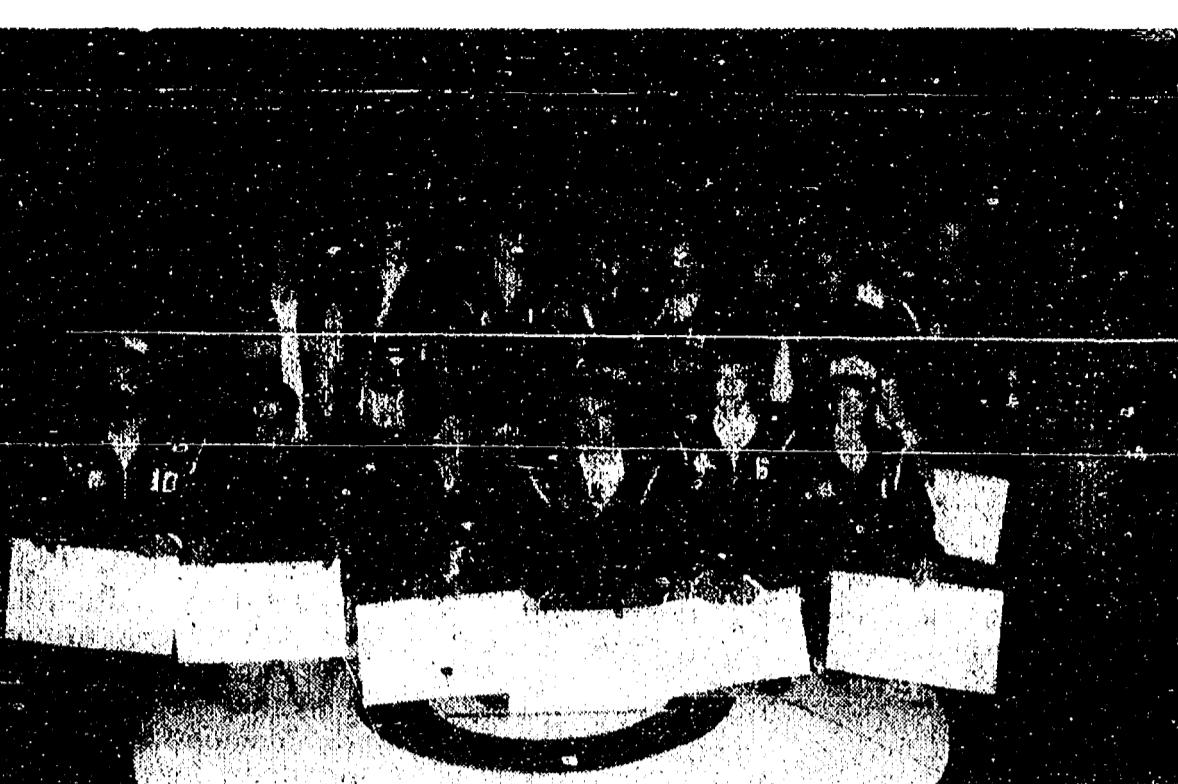

Seven GHS wrestlers took 1st place including 188-pound Brian Kernstock. He won his 100th GHS win on Saturday and remained ranked number one in the state in the Detroit Free Press rankings.

Winning by a decision was Chad Broeker, 106; Jason Wright, Doug Doty, Don Baker, and Eric Waite were defeated.

Other first place winners were Chad Broeker, Terry Sorenson, Frank Wildfong, Jason Wright, John Gay, and Rusty Argue.

Taking second were Doug Doty, Andy Moore, Jamie Montoya, and Todd Thorson. Eric Waite took 3rd.

Tim Ferrigan, a former GHS wrestler, coached Clare at the

Beats Cheboygan in 3

A comeback in the second game led Grayling to 15-12, 16-14, 15-6 sweep over Cheboygan last week.

Grayling trailed 9-0 in the second game when Sheryl Klinger put in 7 serves in a row to start the comeback.

"We played our best ball of the day coming back to win that game," said varsity coach Becky Brown. "We're getting closer all the time to playing the way we're capable of."

Klinger led the serving in the match with 14. Deanna Phelps had 12, Nikki Trenary 9, and Jannice LaDuke 7. Phelps had 13 spikes and 8 tips, Patti Tremblay had 10 spikes, Heather Stephenson had 7 spikes and 9 tips, and Lisa Kimball had 7 spikes.

Brown said. "But we're still missing too many serves and our passing was 80 percent for the day. It should be at 90 to 95 percent."

Klinger led in serving with 20. Phelps had 23, Tremblay 19, Stephenson 17, Kimball 15, and Trenary 14.

Tremblay had 12 spikes and 19 tips, Phelps had 11 spikes and 23 tips, Kimball had 8 spikes, Trenary had 7, and Stephenson had 18 tips.

Klinger was 102 for 102 in setting for a perfect day. Phelps had 9 blocks, Stephenson 3, and Tremblay 3.

Grayling played Kalkaska Monday, Jan. 16, and goes to Gaylord Saturday.

Vikings Over-run By

Roscommon, St. Ignace

Roscommon, ranked second in class C, broke open a close game in the 4th quarter to beat Grayling 62-44.

The Vikings hung tough trailing 20-18, 32-25, and 51-43 at the three quarter marks. In the fourth quarter they only scored a free throw by Jim Abney.

Roscommon hurt Grayling on the foul line shooting 22/30 compared to 7/18 for the Vikings. The Vikings had a chance to go up 4-0 early on the undefeated Bucks following a technical to start the game. Grayling pointed out a violation by Roscommon in recording players the scoreboard. Grayling didn't connect on the free throws on its first possession.

Abney led with 16 points and 4 blocked shots. Kirk Annis had 6 points, Kraig Hudson 6, Jeremie Mead 6.

Chris Skidmore 4, Marty Jung 4, and Tony Doremire 3.

At St. Ignace last Friday Grayling got beat 89-63 by a team that shot almost 70 percent for the game.

The Saints made 80 percent of their shots in the first half including 10 for 10 from the lane.

"They're the quickest team we've faced and they move the ball well," said varsity coach Tom Mills. "We tried stopping them with different defenses but nothing worked."

Sophomore Kirk Annis led Grayling with 18 points and 11 rebounds. Abney scored 12 with 9 rebounds and 6 blocked shots. Mead scored 13, Hudson 10, Skidmore 8, and Fred Shippy had 2.

The Grayling J.V. team overcame a ten-point deficit in the 3rd quarter to beat Roscommon 58-56.

Shane Fraser led in scoring with 16. Ron Doe had 14 points and 7 rebounds. Matt Branch and Karl Mead had 8 rebounds each.

Against St. Ignace it was the other team that rallied this time. Grayling was ahead 33-28 at half but lost 58-50.

Fraser led with 20 points, Doe had 10, Branch 10, and Jay Mertes had 9 rebounds.

Teams finished the same in both girls and

Here's an incredible football record that's hard to believe... A player amazingly once kicked 17 field goals in ONE GAME — a record no one else has ever approached... It happened in a game between Montana State and Billings Poly in 1924... Frosty Peters of Montana State kicked 17 field goals in that game... The final score was Montana State 64, Billings Poly 0, as Peters scored 51 points himself!

Surprisingly, only once in the last 38 years has the Heisman Trophy gone to a player on the team that won the national championship... The only time since 1930 that the Heisman was given to a player on a national championship team was 1976 when Tony Dorsett of Pitt got the Heisman and Pitt won the national championship... You'd think it would have happened more often than that, but it hasn't.

One of the most amazing teams ever to play in the National Football League was the fabled Duluth Eskimos of 1926. They played in the NFL that year with just a 13-man squad — meaning they had only 2 substitutes on the whole team... Most players played every minute of every game... and despite that, their record was 6 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John

Part #61

Memorials to Jesus

Following the raising of Lazarus from the dead, there was a supper held in Bethany, in which Martha, Mary and Lazarus expressed their appreciation to Jesus. (John 12:1-11).

Martha expressed her appreciation by serving the meal. "There they made him a supper; and Martha served..." (John 12:2a). This was Martha's gift which she offered in loving service to her Lord. Before this, Martha was "cumbered about much serving" (Luke 10:40), but now she appears to be cordial. No job should seem small or burdensome when it is done as unto the Lord. Martha provided a memorial to Jesus by her faithful work.

Mary worshipped Jesus Christ with her wealth. "Then took Mary a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment." (John 12:3). We see the reverence of her sacrifice as she wiped the excessive ointment from his feet with the hair of her head. She did this to prepare the body of Jesus for burial. (John 12:7). Because of Mary's sacrifice in worship, Jesus established a memorial to her forever. (Luke 14:3-9).

Lazarus served Jesus by his suffering unto death for God's glory. His death and raising from the dead drew many people to come and see Jesus. (John 12:9). Because of the testimony of

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Much has been written and said about the world wide destruction of natural habitat and extinction of various species caused by this destruction. Most people who hear about this have a tendency to say "So what" and continue their own struggle for existence. It is easy to see why some would feel this way, especially if they perceive that their livelihood and survival depends upon this destruction. For example, thousands of acres of tropical rain forests are cut each day providing jobs for the loggers and fields for farmers to till. Unfortunately, the soil is fragile and is depleted within a very few years. The land is then abandoned and may never recover.

What does it matter to someone living in Northern Michigan if tropical rain forests disappear? After all, there aren't many of them in the Grayling-Roscommon area. Very few local residents can say they really care if 20-25% of the biological species existing today will be lost forever by the year 2000, at the present world wide rate of natural habitat destruction.

It is highly likely that somewhere in the unexamined and even unknown species which are being lost daily, there are preventatives and cures for many of the diseases we face now and will face in the future. If a cure for cancer lies hidden in the tropical rain forest, or perhaps in a Michigan wetland targeted for development, it would mean something to us all to preserve it and not lose it forever.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

This past weekend the winds were gusting to over thirty miles an hour, according to the radio and at times the snow carried by that wind reduced visibility to near zero. Through it all, and seemingly unperturbed, the Chickadees visited the feeder outside the window. It looked like they hung on a little tighter when a wind blew through, but their feathers hardly ruffled.

Right now I have four books open on my desk to information on Chickadees. No where can I find how much that minute feathered bundle weighs, but having held one in my hand now and again I can tell you it isn't much. Of all the birds that visit our feeder or I see when I'm in the woods, the Black-Capped Chickadee is the most friendly and trusting. Flocks will make the rounds of all the neighborhood feeders in the company of various species of woodpeckers and nuthatches to feed on suet, sunflower seeds and scratch feed. At this time of the year they tend to form flocks, but when spring arrives they will disband and seek out nesting spots. I could count eight and sometimes eleven of the little birds at the feeder, but even after they raise six to eight young per nest during the coming summer I can expect to observe about the same number next winter.

Recipes

By Phyllis Brummer

Let's do something interesting with vegetables this week. The first recipe I found in a butter carton and it is really good.

Green Beans à la Orange
1 lb. fresh whole green beans, trimmed

3 tbsp. sweet butter

3 tbsp. pine nuts or slivered or sliced almonds

1 tbsp. orange peel zest (about three strips)

In skillet, cook green beans in water and salt until tender crisp. Drain and set aside. In same skillet, saute nuts until golden, stirring constantly; they will burn easily. Add beans and orange zest, cover, and cook until beans are heated through. The next recipe is from Okray's, but the equivalent amount of any other brand of frozen hash browns can be used.

German Potato Salad

Place hash brown patties in 9x13 pan. Brown 4 strips of dice bacon, add 2/3 cup chopped onion and cook until onions are tender. Add one can cream of celery soup, 3/4 cup water, 3 tbsp. vinegar, 1 tsp. sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/8 tsp. pepper.

Pour mixture over potato patties and bake one hour at 375°, stirring a couple times to break up the patties. This recipe does not adapt well to microwaving baking; the potatoes do not seem to absorb enough flavor from the sauce.

Lima Bean Bake

1 lb. baby limas, cooked according to package directions until nearly done and drained, saving the cooking water.

2 tsp. salt

1/3 c. molasses

1/3 c. chili sauce

1/4 tsp. vinegar

dash of cayenne pepper

3/4 tsp. dry mustard

1/4 medium onions, chopped

1/4 c. diced ham

Combine all ingredients with 1 1/2

SAUTE onions in two batches in the butter only until limp. Remove to baking dish and deglaze pan with the sherry. Off the heat, add nutmeg, cream and salt and pepper to taste. Pour over onions. Top with swiss cheese, then parmesan or romano cheese.

When microwaving frozen vegetables, try substituting dry white wine for the water and cook according to package instructions.

'Knowledge' Team Beats Last Year's Champions

The Grayling High School Knowledge Bowl team — the "new kids on the block" — hung in a seesaw contest to beat last year's champs, an experienced Tawas City High School, on Wednesday, January 11.

The Knowledge Bowl program, taped at Alpena's CBS affiliate, will be aired Saturday, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. on Channel 11. The Grayling/Tawas City competition will feature senior Mark Hubbard (captain), junior Jennifer Naour, freshmen Josh Lepsy and Jordan Stancil, and junior Paula Nunn (alternate), in the second match GHS has ever played.

Grayling's participation in Knowledge Bowl grew out of Advanced Studies Class, taught by Tom Mills. He chooses contest participants from his students' scores on general knowledge tests. While the top two contestants from the previous match automatically compete next time, the other team spots go to students with the highest scores on his written tests.

Grayling got off to a slow start in their first bowl game against Stanislaw Sterling High School last fall. They evidently learned a lot from that first competition, said substitute coach Nancy Lemmen, because they played much more aggressively against Tawas City and it paid off.

The GHS team led after Round I (composed of toss-up questions) by a score of 30 to 20. They fell behind, however, in Round II (a combination of toss-up and follow-up questions), 80 to 105.

GHS correctly answered nine questions in Round III (a 60-second speed round with ten questions), to their opponents' six, which put Grayling back in the lead, 180 to 165. They finished off Round IV (again, toss-up questions) with three correct answers to TCHS's two, which lengthened their lead. The final score was 210 to 185.

Knowledge Bowl questions come from all areas of general knowledge: history, geography, mathematics, current events, sports, science, literature, government, fine arts, religion, sociology, psychology and economics. Contestants must hit their buzzers within five seconds with the correct answers to such questions as:

1) If the sum of the lengths of the edges of a cube is 60 inches, what is the volume of the cube?

2) Name the American author whose Brook Farm experience was recalled in a fictional account entitled "The Blithedale Romance."

3) What was Secretary of State Dean Rusk referring to when he said, "We're eyeball to eyeball, and the other fellow just blinked?"

Mills drills his Advanced Studies students in class periodically with questions from games such as Trivial Pursuit to help them practice for competition. They could probably tell you that the answers to the sample questions are: 1) 125, 2) Nathaniel Hawthorne, and 3) The Cuban Missile Crisis.)

GHS will compete twice more in preliminary matches. If their combined wins and scores are high enough, they will continue to state finals in the spring. Winners at the state level go to the national academic championship tournament in New Orleans in June.

ON THE AIR — The Knowledge Bowl was taped at Alpena.

KNOWLEDGE BOWL — Representing Grayling were Josh Lepsy, Mark Hubbard, Jordan Stancil, Jennifer Naour, and Paula Nunn.
